

J. W. WADDY
FOR FARM LANDS
LOTS, ETC.
INSURANCE

THE STRATHMORE AND BOW VALLEY STANDARD

J. W. WADDY
FOR IMPLEMENTS
and COAL

VOL. I., NO. 40.

STRATHMORE, ALBERTA, JULY 9, 1910.

Subscription per Year $1.50.

GOGGLES AND SPECTACLES

We can supply you in these lines. Our stock is up-to-date.

PICTURE POST CARDS

Views of Strathmore, also comics, etc. Largest and best stock in town—and the prices are right, too.

W. E. CUMMING

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELLER, STRATHMORE

A REVELATION IN BATHING

THE ALLEN PORTABLE

BATH APPARATUS

Cleansing, Friction, Massage, Shower
CAN BE USED ANYWHERE

You can convert any room into a Bath-room by simply installing the ALLEN PORTABLE BATH APPARATUS. It does away with wash bowls, buckets, basins, tubs—with wash rags and sponges—does away with the old time annoyance, inconvenience, and draggery.

GORDON A. BEAUMONT

BOX 109 - STRATHMORE

will assure you a Free Trial at your own Home.

Price, $8.00 complete.

CARUFEL AND FROST

TINSMITHS & PLUMBERS

AGENTS FOR

FAMOUS GURNEY STOVES
AND FURNACES
PUMPS A SPECIALTY

CORRUGATED METAL
GRAINERIES

Shilson & Goffrier

M'CORMICK AGENTS

HAVE

THE LARGEST STOCK of
IMPLEMENTS

IN

Strathmore

Just unloaded Car of

Democrats

and Car of

Canton Plows

WHICH WE ARE SELLING

ON VERY EASY TERMS

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Mr J. A. Macdonald, C.P.R. station agent at Strathmore, was married on Wednesday to Miss Beatrice McEwen, at Hillcrest Farm, Gleichen. The happy couple have gone to Vancouver, where they will spend the honeymoon.

Two Bank of Commerce inspectors were here Wednesday.

The other day we received several samples of grain from near Cheadle, ranging from 16 to 43 inches in height.

Mr W. E. Cumming, the jeweller, is offering some neat and attractive novelties in the form of Strathmore souvenir spoons and brooches at very reasonable prices.

At a police court held on Wednesday a man named Malcolm Luchanan was fined $2 and costs for sleeping in a barn.

Mr and Mrs Dawson, settlers from England, arrived here yesterday, and are staying at the Immigration Hall.

Mr and Mrs Boles attended the closing for the summer vacation of St. John's College, Calgary, on June 24.

Mrs Stofft, wife of Mr J. Stofft, manager of the C.P.R. Land Office here, arrived in town yesterday morning from her home in Moline, Illinois.

Mr Oscar Miller, of Cheadle, took all the prizes in the Durco Jersey swimmees at Calgary Fair with his fine herd, mention of which was recently made in our columns.

The death took place at Calgary last week of Frank Naut, who it will be remembered was for several months foreman at the King Edward Livery Barn. Deceased had been working on a drilling machine testpitting near Bassano when he had his leg broken. He was taken to the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, but died on Friday as noted. He was a native of Sedan, Kansas. An unassuming young man, he made a large number of friends during his stay in Strathmore.

In connection with the above, there would seem to be need of Government regulation in regard to proper safeguarding of the working parts of well drilling and similar machines. Quite a number of accidents, more or less serious, have happened in Strathmore district during the last few months in connection with these machines.

Chas. O'Bray, Strathmore, won three racing events at Langdon Sports on Monday with his horse "Black Baldy."

Mr W. H. Miller, of St Paul, Minn., who has land interests here, paid a visit to the town on Thursday.

Mr Frank E. Sugden, of Cheadle, is the winner of the competition for the most appropriate name for the new G.T.P. townsite near Calgary. The name he gave was Hubalta, meaning Hub of Alberta.

In Tuesday's "Calgary Herald" the following appeared in an article regarding children lost at the fair:—"Another little boy of the name of Lloyd from Strathmore was also asked for, and he likewise came to light within a very short time."

A correspondent writes:—Several landseekers and owners

SUICIDE CASE

MAN STRANGLES HIMSELF NEAR STRATHMORE

Particulars of a most determined case of suicide were received at Strathmore yesterday morning, when a man came in from one of Jackson's ditch construction camps conveying the information that a tragedy had occurred there early the same morning.

The name of the suicide is William C. Myers. He was discovered this morning lying dead in bed, having tied his suspenders round his neck and then pulled them tight till he choked, which must have required a great deal of determination to accomplish. The camp is about 14 miles from Strathmore, and Coroner Girvin and T. H. Irvine, R.N.W.M.P., went out immediately on receipt of the information to hold an investigation, when they found that the facts were in accord with the account given.

Myers had been employed by Messrs Jackson for some considerable time past, and his mates did not suspect that he was contemplating any violent means of doing away with himself, as he was not by any means morbid. It had, however, been noted that for some time past he had been going off his food, and that he labored under a delusion that three horses which he owned were worthless. He also owned a colt and wagon. Myers was a native of the U.S.A., and has a brother in Philadelphia. His age was about 40. Last summer he was in the employ of Mr Alden Smith, who describes him as sober and intelligent, and a very willing worker.

He paid a visit to the farm of Mr R. Robson, south of town, and were very favorably impressed with the use Mr Robson was making of the irrigation on his place. It would do a few of the croakers about irrigation good to see this work, and would probably let a little enlightenment into their cramped craniums as to the benefits to be derived from a judicious application of the water supplied by the C.P.R.C., especially in a season like the present one.

Drs Agnew and Slack, dentists, of Medicine Hat, will be at the King Edward Hotel, Strathmore, on Tuesday, July 19, and will remain for four or five days.

The Russian Wolfhounds exhibited by C. E. Mundi, of Strathmore, took first prize as best brace owned by same exhibitor, at the Calgary Fair. Although only puppies, the pair were awarded the brace sweepstakes against mature dogs, which made the win more noteworthy.

Several Strathmore people have already booked seats for Madame Melba's Calgary concert on October 7.

For FENCING AND SUPPLIES call on C. W. Chase, Strathmore.

Messrs T. B. Blackadder and D. Macdonald, of Airside Hotel, and formerly of Strathmore, were in town last week-end.

Mr W. R. Bell is here temporarily as operator at the station.

Mr and Mrs Healey, of Calgary, emigrated upon a farm here this week.

A meeting will be held in Messrs Owen & Wilson's store at 8.30 on Monday evening for the purpose of organising a gun club. All interested invited to attend.

OUR

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT

IS NOW MOVED TO

THE GROUND FLOOR

A COMPLETE LINE CARRIED

AGENT FOR

SHARPLES' TUBULAR

CREAM SEPARATORS

THE SIMPLEST AND BEST ON THE MARKET

W. E. BROWN

Hardware and Furniture

WE EXPECT A RUSHING SEASON IN THE LUMBER LINE.

ALL INDICATIONS POINT to a BRISK

BUILDING BUSINESS
THIS SPRING

and we take this opportunity to suggest Early Orders.

WE KNOW OUR STOCK OF

LUMBER, LATH, SHINGLES, SASH, DOORS, WINDOWS
AND ALL KINDS OF INTERIOR FINISH, and WANT YOU TO KNOW IT.

CALL AND SEE OUR STOCK, AND GET OUR PRICES
BEFORE PLACING YOUR ORDERS.
IT WILL PAY YOU.

Riverside Lumber Co., Ltd.

STRATHMORE.

W. S. GLADWIN, Manager.

Daylight Store

DOWNIE & SALMON

STRATHMORE

GENERAL MERCHANTS,

Groceries, Flour and Feed,

Boots and Shoes, Crockery,

Hosiery and Overalls

The FRUIT SEASON is now

advancing. Let us give you price on preserving fruit.

STRAWBERRIES Arriving

next week straight from the gardens.

His Courtship

By HELEN K. MARTIN.
Author of "Till a Man comes,"
Copyright, 1917, by Helen K. Martin, Philadelp.

(Continued.)

Ennie had a sensation as though the earth were suddenly floating on under her. What did it mean, Daisy speaking of "Dr. Kirov"? Was she disquising a pretense and did she know him otherwise than as Pete? What was this which Daisy said? "You are as good as engaged to Dr. Kirov?" And he had told her that he "loved Georgiana." Ennie felt herself floating amid clouds of confusion.

Georgiana laughed and looked rather amused. "I'm afraid your assumptions are quite gratuitous, my dear."

"Well, at least there isn't the least doubt as to what his feelings will be," Daisy predicted. "You'll do him brown! He won't be able to help himself. He won't matter how much he has to be a magnifico or whatever you call 'em."

"I'm not so sure," Georgiana protested, but she laid her hand lovingly on Daisy's arm.

"But you may be sure," Ennie spoke with a half pique and almost without thought. "He does love her. 'What?' Daisy turned to her. 'Yes, Dr. Kirov does love her.' Ennie's voice sounded hollow to herself. She was dazed. There was a dull weight upon her heart, an undefined but keen sense of loss. Dr. Kirov and Georgiana were "as good as engaged."

"He says he loves you," she repeated mechanically.

There was a sob in her throat that she choked. She felt an impulse to get away from herself. Suddenly Ennie remembered that she was engaged to two girls could collect themselves she was gone.

For an instant surprise held both of them silent.

"She's a little bit off the top," declared Daisy.

"What could she have meant?" wondered Georgiana.

"I can't get aboard," said Daisy. "I don't think she knows what she's doing. I don't think that girl acted as if she had when."

"She must be what she is. I would ask her what she knows about her. She is singular," Georgiana agreed.

"But what could she have meant?" she never saw Kirov, and Kirov never saw her. She was talking through her hat."

"Of course," Georgiana again agreed reluctantly. It would be her own fault. Interesting if Daisy's conclusion was not so inevitable if Ennie had been "talking through her hat."

Meanwhile Ennie, alone in the domestic chamber, sat at the foot of the bed and staring with unseeing eyes into the darkness of the room.

Ennie was in a great daze. She was as if she had been blindfolded and led into the darkness of the room. She was as if she had been blindfolded and led into the darkness of the room.

Engaged to be married! What did marriage mean to her like him? What had an intimate knowledge of him meant to her like him? What had an intimate knowledge of him meant to her like him?

Ennie sank down upon the bed and buried her face deep in her hands. Her trembling hand only one thing was clear. That which in the days just past had made the sun in the heavens shine for her as it had never done before, that was now over. He belonged to another. What had he to do with her or she with him? She was alone—utterly and absolutely alone.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Two weeks in the same room two days later Kirov was once more met with the assembled household.

Kirov, the entire family, including Ennie, being present at the important interview he was known to all.

The withdrawal of Georgiana's all attending presence from the farm had made the family seem to Kirov as if he were alone.

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"Yes, my dear," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

"I see, Ennie," Kirov said, "a few days absence and his fresh contact with the world, Ennie would appear to him from the farm."

upon since once more the suit or, but neither their perusal nor their anger had succeeded in moving her.

On his arrival he had of course inquired upon seeing Ennie alone. But he had met with such violent opposition to this that both Mr. and Mrs. Morlingstar that even the girl herself drew back, unwilling to brave the storm that would be his if he persisted in his suit.

He saw that part, at least, of what he had to tell her, or at least, that he had to tell her in the presence of the family. Surely the news would not be so hard to throw off the last vestige of her job.

So, first, he had forced Morlingstar, under the force of his threats, to sign, in a cold preparation of her room, the draft for Kirov (which in fact represented at least a fourth of his possessions and took it over to the bewildered Ennie.

"Now, Mr. Morlingstar," he began when this transaction had been completed, leaving the farmer utterly shaken out of his orbit, "I have a piece of news for you and your wife and for Ennie."

Ennie's face was pale, and her eyes, intent upon his face, were burning. "What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

"What is it?" she asked, with the power to read all her thoughts, unlike any other person, to have to break his news to her in the presence of the family.

WAS A TRUST BUSTER

J. W. CURRY, C.A. A VETERAN

IN THE PUBLIC BEHALF.

Present Anti-Combine Movement

Has Many a Trophy of the Chase After Law-Breaking Corporations—He Saw Stroum's Day in Toronto's Criminal Court

It seems to be one of the decline of this world that her strong men shall give up a part of her history to the service of their fellows before they turn to the work of securing their own rewards for themselves and their families. It is quite a common thing today to find men when they have done very well by themselves turning to public service and philanthropic pursuits as a duty. They would not have been able to do this if the enthusiasm and the energy of the mass of the young men were not. He is young, he is strong and he is full of the spirit of the age. He is young, he is strong and he is full of the spirit of the age.

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

"You go's eye opened wide. 'I am to go to my aunt?' she bravely asked. 'My aunt?' It seems to me that you are going to give me a square to her voice that revealed fully all the significance of what she had heard."

"I ain't leavin' her," she stoutly maintained, evidently not yet realizing all the significance of what she had heard.

Kirov drew a purse from his pocket and, taking out some bills, laid them before Ennie. "You must give me this money to give to you for your expenses until you join her in New York."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON 11—THIRD QUARTER,

FOR JULY 10, 1910.

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive

Quarterly Review—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

Lesson for the Week—Golden Text

THE STRATHMORE AND BOW VALLEY STANDARD

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.
SINGLE COPY—5 CENTS.
ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50
OUTSIDE BRITISH EMPIRE, $2.
PROPRIETOR—W. PARK EVANS.
MANAGER—JOHN MCKENZIE.
Legal Advertising, 12 cents a line for first insertion, and 8 cents a line for each subsequent insertion—12 lines to the inch. Local, 10 cents a line. Last, Found, Advice, and Want Advertisements, 50 cents one insertion, or three insertions for $1. Display advertisements, at per column inch per month. Changes of advertisements should reach this office not later than noon each Thursday.

SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1910.

Martin & Evans' Store Opens

The new confectionery store, ice-cream parlor, and bakeshop on Second Street, owned by Messrs Martin and Evans, is now partly completed, the store itself being opened. The bakeshop, however, will not be completed for about ten days, it being at present being under erection, and the ovens being put together. The store itself is two stories in height, and presents a very handsome appearance, both externally and internally. It is well lighted, the floor being on one side, and the large plate-glass windows occupying the rest of the frontage. A long glass counter extends down one side of the interior, and a handsome and up-to-date soda fountain is in the rear. Numerous chairs and tables are provided. The bakery, when completed, will be in a position to supply all the requirements of Strathmore and district, both in plain and fancy breads, cakes, and confectionery.

Messrs Martin and Evans are young men who have been residents of the town almost since its inception, and they are to be congratulated on furnishing Strathmore with a valuable addition to the number of fine stores already in town. We believe they will get the hearty support of the people of the district.

Strathmore Sports

CIVIC HOLIDAY PROPOSED
ON AUGUST 8

Owing to Dominion Day being also the opening day of the Provincial Exhibition, it was thought better to hold over the annual Strathmore sports to a later date. These sports have been a great success in former years, and with the increased popularity ought to be better than ever this year.

The date has not been fixed yet, but the general opinion is that August 8 or thereabouts would be a very suitable date. There is a considerable amount of money already in the town, being the surplus from 24 years' sports. A public meeting should be called shortly to settle the date and other details.

Conservative Caucus

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE
ATTENDS

A caucus of the Conservative party of Alberta was held at Calgary on July 5. Mr. W. Waddy, of Strathmore, was one of the delegates present, and he has furnished us with details of some of the business done.

The purpose of the meeting was to receive the resignation of Dr. Brett as president, as that gentleman will be absent from the Province on account of his health. No decision was come to in regard to a successor.

With regard to the vacancy in Gleichen district, it was decided to allow the appointment of a candidate to lie over until it was decided whether the Liberals or Independents were going to run candidates, and hold a meeting of Conservatives of the district to take the matter of a candidate up.

It was decided to draw up a scheme of organization for the party in Alberta.

A committee was appointed to deal with the election of a candidate and the result of their deliberations will be brought before a convention to be held later in the summer.

Moving Pictures of the West PRAIRIE SCENES TO BE SHOWN ALL OVER AMERICA AND EUROPE

Several issues ago we announced that the Edison Moving Picture Co. was on the point of touring the continent from Montreal to Vancouver, taking moving pictures of scenes and incidents en route, under the direction of the C.P.R. The five special cars containing the members of the company, with Mr. J. S. Dennis, assistant to the Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, J. Searle Dawley, of the Edison Co., arrived in Alberta last week-end. Travelling with them were also Mr. Walsh, of the Columbia Magazine, New York; Mr. Geo. Frazer, of the Canada Monthly; and Mr. Norman Rankin, secretary to Mr. Dennis.

The company arrived at Strathmore on Tuesday evening, and spent the whole of Wednesday taking scenes around the town, and especially in the Demonstration Farm. Pictures were taken of the process of irrigation and also of a steam plow working, with other typical scenes of the district.

THE EXHIBITION

A COMPLETE SUCCESS

A previous visit of the company was paid to Strathmore on Dominion Day, when they erected a very comic scene in front of Messrs Downie & Salmon's store, the principal characters being an elderly swain and his lady love, and a young farmer. The whole thing was very humorous, but very difficult to describe in print. It is supposed that Strathmore folks will have an opportunity of seeing the pictures before long.

The tales of Western life upon which hundreds of thousands in all parts of America and in Europe will gaze on in the near future as they are displayed on the canvases in theatres and music halls are realistic and actual life in this country pervades every scene. Interesting tales are interwoven in the pictures, and it is for this purpose the members of Edison Picture Co. are being taken along.

A STAMPEDE

To illustrate the method employed in securing the pictures, two thousand ranch cattle were rounded up by W. H. McMillen, live stock agent, at a point not far distant from Brooks, on the Circle Ranch. A crowd of thousands where the frightened cattle galloped madly past, a sea of horns rising and falling above the galloping bodies of animals. Then cowboy scenes and real romantic acts, such as prairie courtship, were taken, and a cattle-stealing scene was another of the number of the films calculated to amuse and interest those who will view them in distant countries.

At Montreal the special started out and the destination of the party is Shanghai, across the Pacific. Scenic beauties along the route of the C.P.R., life in the building villages, towns, and cities, the far-reaching prairies and the mountain scenery, these and many more scenes have been and will be collected.

THE MOUNTED POLICE

The Royal North-West Mounted Police, of world wide renown, have furnished the film maker with a "real life" story of interest. One young trooper is represented as having in love with the daughter of an officer over him, and when his sweetheart's brother, who is a wild young chap, robs a post office and is afterwards arrested by the hero of the story, he is liberated. Disgrace falls upon the youthful policeman, but his love discovers he has shielded her brother and this intensifies her love for him. Later the young scapegrace shoots himself and the story finishes with the trooper restored to position and in high regard of his superior officers.

The C.P.R., life in the building villages, towns, and cities, the far-reaching prairies and the mountain scenery, these and many more scenes have been and will be collected.

A RECRUIT

At Regina pictures of the mounted police in review were taken, and another story, that of a new recruit, hinges upon the policing body of the north-western country. He is broken in after the usual fashion and the film cannot but create interest for those who see it and are not acquainted with the K. N. W. M. P.

COMING TO CANADA

A runaway bride and groom, who are travelling with all possible speed to Canada from the United States, seeking to evade the wrath of parents and friends in their own country and with the intention of reaching a country filled with promise, live in the encampments of the original possessors of the land, the Indians, and of weird Indian dances and celebrations, views of ascents and the towering Rockies and of life in Sunny Alberta and in the garden of British Columbia. All these and more will be included among the films which the Edison people will display in ten thousand picture houses in the United States and also in Europe. Intermingled with the romantic, the home-like, and the scenic films will be some of the most humorous and bubbling with laughter. How John Doe and his bride travel from Montreal to Shanghai on their honeymoon is a fun producer calculated to cultivate many a laugh. John loses his tickers, spills his soup on his bride, and does every possible ridiculous thing. At Winnipeg he loses himself and at Carberry his bride. He has yet to tumble from a hotel roof garden in Victoria and many more exciting incidents to come through before he and his beloved land Shanghai.

Probably these scenes will do more to advertise the west than anything yet attempted.

THE EXHIBITION

A COMPLETE SUCCESS

This year's Alberta Provincial Exhibition, held at Victoria Park, Calgary, has beat all previous records by a long way, both for attendance and for the number and quality of exhibits. On the opening day, Friday, July 1, the attendance was over 25,000 and in the following days the numbers were proportionately large. The exhibition brought crowds from all over Alberta and beyond, and Strathmore district contributed largely to the quota. Every morning crowds left the depot for the local and the number of carriages on which had to be trekked throughout the whole of the exhibition.

Several Strathmore exhibitors were successful in winning prizes. Messrs Cottrell and Worthington, who have a farm a few miles from here, carried off 5 firsts and 2 specials for poultry. These were as follows:

Leghorns, any other color, hen—J. J. Worthington
Bantam, game, black red or brown red, hen—J. J. Worthington
Bantam, game, duckwing, cock—J. J. Worthington
Bantam, game, any other variety, hen—J. J. Worthington
Orpington, buff, cock—J. J. Worthington

Special prizes offered by the Calgary Poultry association, for the best bird in the following classes—Buff Orpington, won by J. J. Worthington; Bantam, a.o.v., J. J. Worthington.
Professor J. W. Elliott won first prize in Class 260, for Holstein Bulls, 3-year-old or over.
Mr. C. R. Ingley won second prize in the Combination Horse class, the first prize being won by F. C. Lowes & Co., Calgary. Mr. Ingley also won fourth in the class for Clydesdale stallions, 3-year-old and over, with Viscount Lethbride.

In the Acre Yield exhibit Professor Elliott had an entry, but it was rejected too late for judging.
Professor Elliott was in charge of the milking machine exhibit, and as this was one which attracted great attention he had a busy time demonstrating to hundreds of farmers and others. The machine proved a complete success, and it was probably result in many in the Province adopting the modern method of milking.

Professor Elliott was interviewed by a Calgary reporter, and had the following to say in regard to the horse exhibits:

"There has never been a better exhibit at any exhibition of this nature that I have ever visited. The best classes of horses entered in the spring show are exhibited here, besides many others which makes the prize competition very keen. It would be safe in saying that the horse show at this exhibition is more successful than any other of the kind. It is one of the main features of the fair, coming next in the running with the grandstand performances. The Professor acted as ring superintendent at Calgary Spring Horse Show."

Strathmore Grain Prices.
Published by Mr. Lilly Strathmore (agent, Alberta Pacific Elevator Co.).

WHEAT
1st winter	84
2nd winter	81
3rd winter	74
1st spring	82
2nd spring	81
3rd spring	74
BARLEY
No 3	30
No 4	26
Feed	25
OATS
30lb. and over	25
Under 30 lb.	24
Feed	21
FLAX
1 Manitoba	1.00
Regulated	1.00
July 9, 1910.

FIRE LIFE LIVE STOCK INSURANCE

COME

To the Land of Health, Wealth, and Happiness SUNNY ALBERTA

And when you come don't forget that Strathmore is a very good place to locate. There are reasons enough, come and investigate, and I'm sure any fair-minded person will agree.

Sixty days for a special inducement to have people investigate this locality, pay the car fare and expenses of anyone buying 160 acres or more of land through my office. Absolutely no misrepresentation tolerated. Accurate location, description and terms furnished cheerfully and promptly.

A FEW SNAPS

All Irrigable

320 acres, sloping gently to east, 7 miles from Strathmore, 180 broke and into crop, being 50 acres oats, 125 flax, 4 acres of Potatoes, and 1 of Buckwheat; all fenced, 3 wire-cord posts. Small house and other outbuildings. This exceptionally good farm at only $20.00 per acre. The Price is right and terms very easy.

125 Acres of the Finest Land

In the Grassland District all irrigable, and all broken and packed. Storey and a half House, and between two R.R. now under construction, the nearest being 3 miles and the other 6. Very good and very cheap, terms easy.

320 Acres. The Very Finest

Half Section of Non-irrigable Land, with good 4-roomed house, well, windmill, and other good improvements, including 200 acres of crop, consisting of spring wheat, oats and flax. Only 31 miles from main line. Very fine for only $25.00 per acre; $50.00 cash, balance arranged.

480 Acres of Excellent Land

367 D and 113 Irrigable. At present this farm is 20 miles from railroad, but new road is now under construction within 4 miles. 150 acres broken and sowed to flax; fine black loam soil; house, outbuildings, etc., good well. This exceptionally good farm at only $20.00 per acre; $25.00 cash, balance to suit purchaser, interest 6 per cent.

A Very Fine Irrigable Farm

Only 41 miles from Strathmore. 200 acres into crops, a good well, and what other improvements there are all for $25.00 per acre; $40.00 cash, balance C.P.R. contract. Can include all the machinery at less than cost. This is a good bargain in irrigable land.

A Very Choice Half Section

7 miles from Strathmore and 1 from Nanaima. For a few days at $25.00; $200 cash, balance. This is non-irrigable and very good, unimproved.

CALL OR ADDRESS:

PAUL J. HARRISON

STRATHMORE, ALTA.

FARM LOANS

CHATTLES LOANS

BLACK & BOND PLASTERERS

PLASTERING AND BRICKLAYING.
CELLAR & WELLS DUG

SEE OUR CEMENT WELL

CRIBS.

CEMENT FOUNDATIONS

BRICKS & BLOCKS A

SPECIALTY

ESTIMATES CHEER-
FULLY FURNISHED.

BLACK AND BOND

STRATHMORE

CLYDESDALE STALLION

BONNIE BRAE

(3480)

Splendid Bone and first-class
Stock Breeder, weighs 1850 pounds, will stand at

STRATHMORE LIVELY

FEED & SALE STABLES

for season

TERMS—$5 Cash, $12

when Mare proves in foal

W. G. KNYVETT,

Proprietor.

FOR GOOD MEALS

GO TO

GILLIES'

RESTAURANT

FIRST STREET

STRATHMORE

ICE CREAM

SOFT DRINKS, ETC.

J. M. GILLIES

Proprietor.

YOUR BUSINESS NEEDS ADVERTISING

IF IT IS TO GROW

It is easy to tell the Successful Storekeeper.
He advertises.

There is no object in present day business in hiding your light under a bushel. You want to let people know what you are selling.

The Storekeeper or other Dealer who wishes to do business with the public of Strathmore district will find that the best way to attract that business is to advertise in which circulates all over the district, and is the recognized News and Advertising Medium.

THE STRATHMORE STANDARD

JOB PRINTING

The Standard Office is fitted up in up-to-date manner with all the Type and Machinery necessary to turn out perfect Printing, and we invite you to call and examine samples of our work and get a price from us. We supply

LOOSE-LEAF

LEDGER OUTFITS

CATALOGUES

LETTERHEADS

NOTEHEADS OR

STATEMENTS

ENVELOPES

BILL HEADS

SHIPPING TAGS

POSTERS & HANDBILLS

BUSINESS CARDS

VISITING CARDS

ADMISSION TICKETS

CIRCULARS

PROGRAMMES

BUTTER PAPER

MILK AND BREAD

TICKETS

MEAL TICKETS

MENUS, &c., &c.

STANDARD PRINTING OFFICE

THIRD STREET - STRATHMORE

This Week's Specials

AT

STRATHMORE TRADING COMPLY'S

Cash Store and Bargain Centre

Unequalled values make this an ideal spot to shop in. This week we have selected 12 items at prices that will clearly show that this is the right place for the prudent cash buyers to spend their money.

Special No. 1 6 Cans Strawberries, Pears, or Raspberries for - $1.00	Special No. 5 8 Cans No. 1 Maple Grove Tomatoes for $1.00	Special No. 9 75c and $1.00 Ladies Sailor Hats, fine quality straw, for - 50c
Special No. 2 8 Cans Borden's 1 lb Cans Cream for - $1.00	Special No. 6 5lb Tin of B. Columbia Climax Jam for - 60c	Special No. 10 Men's $1.25 & $1.50 Fine Negligee Shirts reduced to - $1.00
Special No. 3 9 lbs Dignards with 15c Fancy Biscuits for - - $1.00	Special No. 7 5 lb Chase & Sandburne Camp Blend Coffee for - $1.00	Special No. 11 Ladies' $1.00 Black Silk or Nett Gloves for - - 50c
Special No. 4 1 gal. Red Cross Sweet Pickles for - $1.00	Special No. 8 4 Cartoons of White Swan Soap for - 90c	Special No. 12 15 Pair Men's Tweed Pants, sold regularly at $2.50, now - $1.75

MEN'S STRAW AND FELT HATS

In order to close out everything in Men's Hats we will offer:

25 per cent off all Fancy Straws, 15 per cent off all Felts

20c White
DRESS MUSLIN
for 15c
T. J. BARRETT
MANAGER

500 Yards PRINTS
worth 15c
SALE PRICE
12c.

COMMENTS ON CURRENT EVENTS

"Poor old Jeff," if he has't exactly gone to rest, has at least seen the last of his pugilistic days, and Jack Johnson was the victor's wreath and smiles, his golden smile. There was only one colored gentleman in Strathmore on the night of the fight, and he, while naturally elated, was taking no chances on an argument with any Jeffies supporters, for he carried in his right hand a heavy-looking stick.

If he loves a Strathmore resident to look pleased all the time, when there are so many moving picture men foraging around here for subjects. There must have been, or there visits in the way within the last few months by these experts, the latest being on Wednesday of this week. It would be rather hard on any Strathmore man to be shown on the screen all over America and Europe with a scowl on his phlegm. These moving pictures are good advertising for Strathmore, and for Western Canada generally. Hard things are sometimes said about the C.P.R., but it cannot be denied that they are more up-to-date in their advertising than any other business or corporation on earth. The main thing in advertising is in the first place to have something worth advertising and then advertise it well. Western Canada is well worth advertising, and one only wants to tell the truth and induce the landseeker to visit it, to get it settled.

Talking about advertising, and boosting generally, the Strathmore business men are about the slowest bunch in all Alberta. They seem to think that because the town is progressing rapidly it doesn't need any boosting, and that because the C.P.R. activity is bringing the town to public notice they don't require to do anything. Strathmore is about the only town in Alberta that doesn't possess a Board of Trade. All the towns between Calgary and the Hat have one except Strathmore. Even Cheadale has one. A Board of Trade is a very useful institution, also a very, inexpensive one. Now, Strathmore, wake up and get a move on.

TRY A PAIR OF OUR Overalls

GUARANTEED NOT TO RIP
ALL COLORS AND SIZES

A COMPLETE LINE of Everything in Men's Wear

THOS. E. WRIGHT, Men's Wear and Men's Wear only
MEN'S OUTFITTER, STRATHMORE

THERE WILL NOT BE ENOUGH LUMBER TO GO ROUND THIS SPRING

Make Your Purchases Now!
AND EXAMINE OUR STOCK
AND OBTAIN OUR PRICES
BEFORE BUYING ELSEWHERE

CROWN LUMBER COMPANY
Western Canada's Largest Lumber Concern

ILKLEY DAIRY.

H. R. KILN.

The Pioneer Dairy.

MILK DELIVERED TWICE DAILY.

Miss Bolton, MUS. BAC.
(University of Manchester, England)
PROFESSOR OF MUSIC will receive Pupils in
PIANOFORTE, ORGAN, SINGING, AND HARMONY

Dr T. A. Wilson

We received the following extracts in reference to the new pastor of Strathmore Methodist Church, the other day, from Rev. C. H. Huestis, of Red Deer. They will be of much interest locally:

"North Sydney—A correspondent writes: 'Dr Wilson's three years here have been marked with much success both spiritually and financially. The debt has been reduced and connexional funds increased. The congregation presented Dr Wilson with a purse of gold on leaving.'

"The Sydney Post reports the closing service of Dr Wilson's pastorate as filling the church to its capacity. The Sydney District passed a most appreciative series of resolutions, amongst other saying: 'As a wise administrator, as a scholarly and earnest preacher, as a faithful pastor, and as a guardian of the interests of the kingdom of God in general, and of that portion of it comprised by our own church in particular, Bro. Wilson has shown himself to be a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, and we feel that our conference sustains a distinct loss in his departure from our midst.'

The Election

No active opposition has yet been offered to Mr E. H. Riley in the election for Gleichen district, though there have been many rumors of candidates going to take the field. The name of Mr Oscar Moorhouse, Strathmore, has been mentioned as a possible candidate, but on asking that gentleman the other day he was not prepared to affirm or deny it. Mr Moorhouse is very well-known throughout the Gleichen riding, and would be certain of strong support if he decided to stand.

The Bassano News, in a recent issue states: "There are a few gentlemen in the Gleichen riding who would like to serve their country in the provincial legislature in the place made vacant by the resignation of E. H. Riley. It looks very much as though there will be a triangular fight in the riding, for it seems reasonably certain that Mr Riley will be opposed by a supporter of the new government as well as by a Conservative. A. J. Robertson, of the firm of Robertson & Pegler, of this place, has been mentioned as a possible candidate by local Conservatives. Mr Robertson has been in the legislature, is a well-known speaker and a shrewd politician. He was seen in regard to the matter and stated that he would accept a nomination that was unanimous, but otherwise he would have nothing to do with it. He was not particular, however, about the matter, and did not intend to make any effort to secure the nomination. Emil Griesbach, of Gleichen, has offered himself as an Independent candidate. It is possible that James Shoultice will run as a Conservative, but he desires further time in which to consider the matter. It may be that P. J. Nolan may be a government candidate. Among those who are spoken of as possible candidates are W. Campbell, John Clark, Jr., and Dr Ings, the latter of Calgary. The contest for the office in this constituency promises to be an interesting one."

Messrs P. Laird and P. Laird Jr., from Scotland, were here at the beginning of the week looking for land.

STRATHMORE "STANDARD" JOB PRINTING IS NOT TO BE EXCELLED

The dry weather which has obtained so far this year has been rather disheartening, especially to the people who have come into the district this spring. It has taken away the hopes of a bumper crop which the early opening of the season aroused. Those who have been in the country for some years must know that this is a very unusual season, and that it is not likely to recur again for a decade. It must be remembered, also, that the drought seems to be general all over Western America, and that it is being felt all over the northern hemisphere. It may also be some consolation to know that we are now as badly off as some districts, where the crop is a total failure. The irrigation scheme is proving a great benefit, though many of the farmers have deferred using it until now, as they have been constantly expecting rain almost every day from the threatening appearance of the sky. It has been one of the most curious things about the weather this year that after the storm clouds have hung around for several days it starts to rain, and then about half-an-hour after fair sets up for another dry spell.

This year's experience should be a powerful inducement to farmers to take up mixed farming, instead of putting all their eggs in one basket, as most of them have been doing by depending in for grain raising exclusively. Hogs, hens, cattle, etc., are good money makers, and the farmer gets income all the year round, instead of for only a few weeks at harvest time.

Since writing the above a good rain fell, on Thursday night and Saturday morning, which will help the crops a great deal.

By the way, vegetable and fruit growing and market gardening is one department of agriculture which more of our farmers might profitably turn their attention to. The results obtained at the Dominion Farm, by Mr F. W. Schettler, and others, go to prove this.

NEW LUMBER YARD AT NAMAKA

REVELSTOCK SAWMILL CO., Ltd.

HAVE NOW ON HAND A

COMPLETE STOCK OF DRY LUMBER

AND ALL KINDS OF

BUILDING MATERIALS

IN GRADE AND QUALITY THERE IS NONE BETTER

CALL AND GET OUR FIGURES BEFORE BUYING

YARDS AT GLEICHEN, NAMAKA, AND CALGARY

SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER

Strathmore & Bow Valley Standard

(Subscription Price $1.50) and

Farmers Advocate & Home Journal

(Subscription Price 1.50) both for

$2.25 per annum.

THE FARMERS ADVOCATE is Canada's Greatest Farm Journal, and every agriculturist in the District should have it in his home.

THE STRATHMORE STANDARD covers the news of Strathmore district, and also a large amount of general news Strathmore's information and advertising medium.

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

Modern Woodmen of America.

STRATHMORE CAMP.

(144th)

Meets 2ND and 4TH WEDNESDAY, in Lloyd's Hall. Visiting Brethren Cordially Invited. F. BOND, Clerk.

LEGAL.

M. BENNETT PEACOCK, LL.M.; BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, NOTARY, ETC. Offices—Thompson's Block, Calgary. Branch office, Strathmore, Saturdays, 2 to 6, or on appointment. Money to loan. Telephone 2251.

CANADA'S CLAIM IS DISPUTED

U. S. WILL COMTEST JURISDICTION OVER HUDSON BAY

Washington's Government Officially Notifies Hudson Bay That It No Longer Recognizes Hudson Bay as an Inland Sea in the Possession of Canada—Canada's Rights Never Before Disputed.

Ottawa.—The Evening Journal says: It is the intention of the United States to contest, at the very first opportunity, the claim of Canada that Hudson Bay is an inland sea to which Canada has exclusive right, and over which the government of that country has complete jurisdiction and control.

"For over a year the authorities here have been aware that the time is rapidly approaching when Canada will be called upon to defend her rights to that valuable sheet of water or to allow them to be alienated from her."

"It is probable, of course, when that time arrives the matter will be decided by arbitration, but if arbitration proceedings are unsuccessful, the question will be laid before The Hague tribunal for settlement."

"The action taken by the authorities at Washington to bring about a situation where war would be a question of time, is direct and unmistakable. The owners and masters of trading vessels and wharves, and the rights of Canada to complete jurisdiction over Hudson Bay, and the dues have been paid gladly by traders if for no other reason than that the benefits they offered are outweighed by the small sums they are allowed for their use."

"For instance, they are allowed facilities for replenishing their very necessary supplies of food, clothing, medicine and valuable coal fields which are located northwest of the bay."

"Above and beyond this, however, is the complete harmony and good relationship that exists between the Canadian government and its officials and the traders and wharves. The proceeds in the Commerce can only be regarded as a most lucrative business. Their security is well secured by the Canadian government."

"The Morning Post says no doubt exists that the bill will pass substantially as it is framed, and that it is desirable that its passage should be as rapid as possible."

"Time anticipates more extensive opposition on the second reading, and the bill will be taken in conjunction with other subjects when it comes before the House."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

"The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government. The bill is not to be found in the United States, but in the possession of the Canadian government."

RECEIVES U. S. GOLD MEDAL

President of the Hudson-Fulton Commission Bears Thanks to His People to British Monarch.

London.—King George gave an audience recently to Sir John Simon, Lord Woodford, of New York president of the Hudson-Fulton commission, who presented His Majesty with an official gold medal. Accompanying the medal was a letter, originally prepared for presentation to the late King Edward. It expressed the thanks of the commission for the aid of the celebration at New York of the representatives of His Majesty's government and pays a tribute to the English sea king and expresses an appreciation of the Anglo-American influence on American life.

In replying King George referred to his emotion upon receiving an address originally intended for his father, who had so especially associated himself with the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

He thanked General Woodford, and said that he was especially gratified to be greeted by the government of this country as a member of the festival and evidence of that hospitality so warmly extended to those who represent the United States.

DEFICIT IN WIPED OUT

THE BRITISH BUDGET TELLS A CHEERFUL STORY

Chancellor Lloyd-George Estimates a Surplus—The Famous Budget Bill Has Resulted in a Great Decrease in the Sale of Liquor, and Has Contributed to the Well-being of the People.

London.—In the Commons recently Premier Asquith announced that the government proposed to advance payment at the end of July, and that it would be reasonable in November. The 11th and 12th of July, he said, would be devoted to the second reading of the women's enfranchisement bill.

Chancellor Lloyd-George then introduced the budget. The chancellor was cheered when he stated that he had already wiped out the deficit and that everything pointed to a better outlook in the future.

The greatest increase in expenditure was for the navy, which was $5,350,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000. The deficit was reduced to $4,000,000.

TALK ABOUT RAILWAYS

Important Deputation Waited Upon Premier Sifton About Railway from Pincher Creek to Boundary

Edmonton.—A deputation of New York capitalists waited upon Premier Sifton recently to ask assistance to a railway from Pincher Creek to the boundary. The premier, while he discussed the project, stated that owing to the unsettled condition of the province at the present time, he could not give any promise nor was he in a position to discuss assistance to any railway project. Capitalists behind the road are understood to have large funds, and stated that their project is bigger than that presented in public.

Pullman's Luxury Toronto.—According to the arguments of railway officials, the companies are losing money in the operation of sleeping cars which they class as a luxury and say should be paid for as such by the travelling public. As a result, the Pullman company, which is the owner of the sleeping cars, is being forced to close down its business.

Malice of the Dominion railway board, disregard. Sleep was a necessity, he said, and the board spent several hours in discussing why the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

The board, however, stated that the price of upper berth sleeping cars should not be made cheaper than lower berths.

JOHNSON WINS FIGHT EASILY

The Black Batter Was Master of Situation from Beginning and End

Renov, Nev.—John Arthur Johnson, a Texan, defeated a local American, a Californian, winner of twenty-one championship fights, the man who had been brought to his knees by a blow, has passed into history as a champion.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.

Johnson, who was actually counted out, was saved only from the crowd by his friends. He was brought into the ring from his corner at the end of the fifteenth round.</

Pioneer Meat Market

STRATHMORE.

General Butcher.

FRESH AND CURED MEATS OF ALL KINDS.
FISH AND GAME IN SEASON.
HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR HIDES.
BUTTER AND EGGS BOUGHT AND SOLD.

ALL GOODS SOLD at the PIONEER MARKET are of the Finest Quality and Guaranteed Fresh.
GIVE US A TRIAL. Come Once and You will come Always.

R. McCANN & SON
Proprietors.

MISCELLANEOUS

ADVERTISEMENTS

STRAYED HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP, ETC. The Best Way to get them back is to Advertise Your Loss in THE STANDARD.

ARTICLES AND FARM STOCK LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO PURCHASE.

HOUSES TO LET, SELL, RENT OR PURCHASE.

ADVERTISE THEM IN THE STANDARD.

THE ONLY ADVERTISING MEDIUM FOR STRATHMORE AND DISTRICT, CIRCULATES ALL OVER.

TERMS FOR MISCELLANEOUS ADS—50 cents one insertion, 75 for two, and $1 for a consecutive insertion. W. an more than one item is included an additional charge is made. Miscellaneous Ads to be prepaid.

FOR SALE
BROWN TEAM, MARE AND GELDING

WHITE HORSE
WAGON, PLOWS AND DISC.
Address: H. E. BECKWITH, Strathmore, Alta., Sec. 23, T24, R25, near McWay. 257-P

$25 REWARD
For information leading to the return of 2 Bay Horses, both had halteres on, with rope tied round their necks, both have two white hind feet and rather short tails. One had ears frozen short, star in forehead, and a new just above left front pastern joint, rangy build, and weighs about 1200 lbs. Other darker bay, the dash running from forehead to nose, making a crook, and getting pretty narrow below eyes, right hind leg hove out a trifle at lock joint, weighs about 1200 lbs. and rather chunky. Leave information at Belin's Livery Barn, Strathmore, 47-P-7P.

DETAINED—Sec. 20-23-25, 1 Pinto Pony gelding, about 3 years old, roan, white feet, white face and mouth, white stripes on sides, branded on left shoulder S, weight about 700 pounds, had wire on when taken up. Apply to Theresa Bros., Strathmore, Alta. 30-P-7P.

FOR SALE—Upright Piano, cheap, excellent tone, first-class condition. Apply BEAS, Standard office. 16-P-7P.

SEED WHEAT, ALBERTA RED PRICE $1.35.
Send Guaranteed Pure and Clean G. GIBSON, Langdon, 30-2-P.

STRAYED, from Sec. 20-24-25, two ponies, Bay Mare branded JF on shoulder with Lazy P above the other white, well-eyed, reddish ears, branded w on thigh, $40 for each, or 25 for delivery of two to W. J. Way, Strathmore. 1-P-7P.

LOST on Thursday, from Carlson, 3 horses, Dark Grey Mare, weighs about 1100 lbs, Light Grey Mare, weighs between 1000 and 1200 lbs, Light Grey gelding, weight between 1200 and 1500, light grey mare had halter on, others without. Dark grey had fence marks on left hind, gelding had wire on left side of hind leg. Leave reward on returning or giving information to Goddard Schell, Carlson.

FISHING IN FORMOSA.

Their Rods Superb, but Their Hooks Are Without Merit.

Three of us, two Americans and one Japanese, started out in fishtrails from Taipeh, the modern capital of Formosa, or Taiwan, to go to the house of a wealthy gentleman about eight miles up the river which runs through the valley of Taipeh. The way led through a beautiful and fertile country, the valley covered with the second crop of rice and the hills with the famous Formosa tea shrub. After lunch and after photographing some head hunting savages we found there we proposed to fish for salmon trout at an altitude less than 250 feet above sea level and in latitude about 24 degrees 45 minutes north, practically in the tropics. The temperature of the stream was about 70 degrees or higher, and the water was well aerated. The stream, from 60 to 100 yards wide, is clear and full of rapids and riffles.

We used Japanese tackle—horsehair line and horsehair leader, the latter consisting of one strand only a bamboo rod and a most delicate plunger tool on a small barbed hook. The rod is decidedly and weight for weight is stronger and a better caster than the Japanese rod. It ranges in weight from four ounces (nine weighed about two), but the line is practically worthless for fishing as we understood the thing. The fly is perfect, but the hook lacks strength, and the fish when hooked may easily detach himself in a current or an eddy or by fouling the line. We all know how it is done from our experience with pin hook and thread in the brooks at home.

The Japanese, however, have another method of fishing which may be as new to some of our readers as it was to me. It is quite successful. They catch one fish in any way they can and then fasten the line securely through its upper jaw, passing it through the roof of the mouth and out at the top of the upper jaw well in front of the eyes and then attach through the body of the fish not far from the tail a horsehair to which is tied a three-pronged barbed hook, which trails in line with the fish and a few inches behind, while it is slowly worked up the stream by the fisherman. The theory is that other fishes, seeing the captive moving along as though feeding or perhaps spawning, will pursue it and become tangled on the hooks. In point of fact that does happen, as I saw a Chinaman take two fish trout in this manner.

Our success with the flies was poor. We got thirteen or fourteen fingerlings, but we saw the fish, we waited to drop, if caught in fairly good numbers by the Chinese fishing with droops.

Woman's Aversion to Index.
"Talk about the inclination to study the catalogue to discover the number instead of opening the letter being a trait of womanhood," said a Brooklyn man the other day, "I bet in it with a woman's aversion to indexes. Give a woman a book of poems like the one at Burns, for instance, and she'll turn the pages for twenty minutes or more to find the piece she is really after rather than look in the index. Suggest the index to her and she'll say, 'Oh, I'll find it in a second,' and away she'll go, turning the pages again."
"The other night by actual timing it took my wife twenty-two minutes to find 'Mary in Heaven' in a copy of Burns, for not only did she lose actual time turning the pages, but if she could come to anything like the 'Holy Writings,' 'Prayer' and 'Holy Stewart,' she'd dally over them awhile, hardly do more than that. The first thing they go for is the index."

An Actor's Minder.
A theatrical manager tells of an amusing and ludicrous mistake made by a young actor in a play.

The young actor had up to this time employed his talents in evicting such as called for no speech on his part. But in this play he was intrusted with the following line, the only words to be spoken by him during the entire play:

"The king is dead! Long live the king!"

The critical time arriving, it was observed by other players that the young man who was to proclaim the new monarch in the words just quoted was suffering from a dreadful attack of stage fright. His cue came, but no words could be spoken, so frightened was he. Finally, however, he pulled himself together and in desperation shouted at the top of his voice:

"Long live the king! he's dead!"

Legal Counselor.

An instance of legal courtesy occurred in a courtroom not very long ago. A lawyer with Mac prefaced to the name and a brother lawyer engaged in a heated discussion. The latter maintained his position, claiming he could find his authority and turning over to the pages of the statute book, when, quick as a flash, Mac said, "You will find what you want on page 9, need not."

Mac's opponent looked up the reference and found the law governing assaurs. A ripple of laughter spread over the court.

A More Important Matter.

"We are all in the same predicament," I got a letter from the person who had been praising, and there was actually a capital in the wrong place. "May be so," answered Mr. Munroe. "But I never give my capital in the wrong place to the market. And that's more important."

It is not what a man earns, nor the amount of his income, but the relation of his expenditures to his receipts that determines his poverty or wealth.

TRAVELER
Shoe for Men
Made by
AMES, HOLDEN
LIMITED
Travels Well
The oak-tanned sole leather—the fine calfskin and patent leather uppers—the careful workmanship—insure the TRAVELER SHOE wearing well and traveling well.
It is a pleasure to sell a pair of TRAVELER SHOES to a customer, because we know how satisfactory these shoes really are.
Let us show you some of the new styles.

GEO. H. LLOYD PIONEER MERCHANT OF STRATHMORE

IN OUR Dry Goods Department

we have a very carefully Selected and Up-to-date Stock, of which we invite inspection.

SEE OUR MEN'S FURNISHINGS AND BOOTS AND SHOES

GROCERIES GROCERIES GROCERIES

Our Stock of these Goods is a Most Complete One

Having bought our Canned Goods direct from the Canneries by the Car Lots, we can give you the finest Prices obtainable.

We sell at the Very Lowest Possible Price Consistent with Quality

PALACE
Shoe for Women
Made by
AMES, HOLDEN
LIMITED
is a shoe for every woman.
We have the dainty styles in patent leather and kid to go with your handsomest gowns.
We have the more serviceable styles for street and every-day wear. And we have just the shoe that will fit your foot, in both styles.
Let us show you the new fashions in "PALACE" Shoes.

DO NOT RENT

 BUY *****
a Farm in the Bow River Valley

TERMS:
Ten Years Time
or Crop Payments,
Six per cent interest

Continent's most fertile land at lowest prices

Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company, Ltd.
Calgary, Alberta

THE CHURCHES.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

STRATHMORE.

Services—morning and evening alternately in Lloyd's H-5 pending erection of new church.

Rev. J. RANNIE, Pastor.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

STRATHMORE DISTRICT—

Father Van Tighem, O.S.M., has rented two large rooms in the James Duff Block, where he will reside when not visiting the surrounding places.

Holy Mass will be celebrated:

First Sunday of the month: Medicine Hat, at 10:30 a.m.

Second Sunday: Strathmore, at 10:30 a.m.

Third Sunday: Langdon, at 10:30 a.m.

At Mr. McDonald's farm, south of Strathmore, in the Polish Colony, every first Wednesday of the month, also when there are five Sundays in the month at 10:30 a.m.

On week days, Holy Mass every morning at 7:30.

The Father is at his rooms in the Duff Block upstairs, at the service of his people.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

STRATHMORE—

Monthly Order of Services:

FIRST SUNDAY: 11 a.m. Morning Prayer and Holy Communion.

SECOND SUNDAY: 7:30 p.m. Evening Prayer.

THIRD SUNDAY: 11 a.m. Morning Prayer and Holy Communion.

FOURTH SUNDAY: 7:30 p.m. Evening Prayer.

When possible a Fifth Sunday will be held.

METHODIST CHURCH.

STRATHMORE CHURCH.

Services 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. each Sunday.

Sunday School at 12 a.m.

Tuesdays—Physical Culture Classes; Girls, 5 to 8 p.m.

Boys, 8 to 10 p.m.

Fridays—Choir Practice at 7:30 p.m.

Saturdays—Prayer Meeting at 8 p.m.

ORANGE VALLEY.

At 3 p.m. each Sunday.

M'LEAN'S.

Fourth Sunday of each month at 3 p.m.

Dr. T. A. Wilson, Pastor.

BEFORE YOU ORDER

LOOSE-LEAF

LEDGERS

OR

STATIONERY

Call and See Us.

We supply everything in this line, and we save you traveller's commission.

ALL KINDS OF

JOB PRINTING

DONE

STANDARD

Printing Office